

Millipede

What is the difference between a millipede and a centipede?

Centipedes have one pair of legs per segment. They use their front two legs to capture and poison other insects.

Millipedes have two pairs of legs per segment. They feed on decaying vegetation and leaf litter. They are nonpoisonous but do produce a distinct odor when threatened.

Oregon Caves National Monument